DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are not objected to by the Examiner.

Specification

Please review the application and correct all informalities.

Information Disclosure Statement

Receipt is acknowledged of Applicant's Information Disclosure Statement of 2-10-2004, which has been placed in the application file and considered by the Examiner.

Information Disclosure Statement

The IDS filed 2-10-2004 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each U.S. and foreign patent; each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. Specifically, all U.S. patents have been considered, but copies of the other documents (Erfert Fenton) have apparently not been provided, and thus the information referred to therein have not been considered. Applicant must provide copies of these documents if there are to be considered as to the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ballard (6,288,726)

Regarding claim 1, Ballard discloses that the claimed feature of a system for glyph construction comprising: a graphics system [i.e. "output device"; 200]; a glyph server ["layout services library"; 208] means coupled to the graphics system [200]; and an operating system ["operating system"; 204] coupled to the glyph server [208]. (See Fig 2, Fig 4, col 3 line 12-61)

Regarding claim 2, Ballard discloses that a line layout core unit receiving glyph codes [i.e. "glyph information"] from the graphics system and determining glyph data descriptions [i.e. "glyph position"]. (See Fig 2, col 1 line 48-51, col 2 line 28-31, col 3 line 25-27, col 3 line 51-col 4 line 11)

Art Unit: 2672

Regarding claim 3, Ballard discloses that a glyph cache unit coupled to the line layout core unit for receiving the glyph data descriptions and determining if glyph data is in the glyph cache unit. (See Fig 2, col 1 line 33-34, col 1 line 48-51, col 2 line 28-31, col 3 line 25-27, col 3 line 51-col 4 line 11)

Regarding claim 4, Ballard discloses that an open font architecture services unit coupled to the glyph cache unit for permitting support of multiple font file formats. (See Abstract line 1-5, col 3 line 27-30)

Regarding claim 5, Ballard discloses that one scalar unit coupled to the open font architecture unit for receiving requests from the open font architecture unit and interpreting font data within a font file. (See Abstract line 1-4, col 11 line 10-14, col 3 line 17-30)

Regarding claim 6, Ballard discloses that a font object management unit coupled to the at least one font scalar and handling requests for the font data. (See Abstract line 1-4, col 2 line 28-31, col 3 line 17-30)

Regarding claim 7, Ballard discloses that an attribute group support unit coupled to and supporting a data structure for communication among the line layout core unit, the glyph cache unit, the open font architecture services unit, the font scalar unit, and the font object management unit. (See Fig 2, Abstract line 1-4, col 3 line 17-30)

Regarding claim 8, claim 8 is similar in scope to the claims 2-7, and thus the rejections to claims 2-7 hereinabove are also applicable to claim 8.

Regarding claim 9, Ballard discloses that the line layout core unit processes a layout of the glyph codes to produce a glyph record array ["layout service library"]. (See col 3 line 62-col 4 line 11)

Regarding claim 10, Ballard discloses that the line layout core unit processes the layout for positional and non-positional adjustments. (See col 3 line 62-col 4 line 11, step 304 in Fig 3, Fig 5)

Regarding claim 11, Ballard discloses that the glyph cache unit provides metrics and rendering s to update the glyph code array. (See col 1 line 42-47)

Regarding claim 12, Ballard discloses that the open font architecture services unit updates the glyph code array with pointers to the glyph renderings. (See Abstract line 16-22, col 3 line 51-61)

Regarding claim 13, Ballard discloses that the claimed feature of a method for processing a line of text in a graphics system running on a computer system and displaying typographic glyphs on a display device of the computer system, the method comprising: mapping the input text into glyph codes [300]; forming an initial glyph record array, the initial glyph record array comprising a plurality of glyph records for the glyph codes [302]; processing a layout of the glyph codes to produce an updated glyph record array [304-308]; rendering the updated glyph record array to produce a final glyph record array; and rendering a display of the typographic glyph output from the final glyph record array [310]. (See Fig 3, Fig 2, col 3 line 21-61)

Regarding claim 14, Ballard discloses that performing non-positional and positional adjustments to the glyph codes. (See col 3 line 62-col 4 line 11, step 304 in Fig 3, Fig 5)

Regarding claim 15, Ballard discloses that the non-positional adjustments comprise determining reorderings, ligatures, insertions, rearrangements, and non-contextureal and contextural substitutions. (See col 6 line 45-col 7 line 26)

Regarding claim 16, Ballard discloses that the positional adjustments comprise determining adjustments due to tracking, justification, kerning, baselines, optical edges, and hanging punctuation. (See col 6 line 45-col 7 line 26)

Regarding claim 17, Ballard discloses that glyph data in an order for display and with positioning adjustments for advance widths of the glyph data. (See Abstract line 16-22, col 2 line 8-17, col 3 line 55-61, col 5 line 1-8)

Regarding claim 18, Ballard discloses that obtaining advance widths of the glyph data, and obtaining pointers for glyph renderings. (See Abstract line 16-22, col 3 line 51-61)

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,714,199. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims of patent No. 6,714,199 contains substantially every element of claims 1-8 of the instant application, and "a graphics system" and "operating system" of the presented application is necessarily required elements for typographic glyph construction, as described in patent No. 6,714,199, in order to perform/render the glyph construction, therefore it would have been obvious to include such limitation in the instant application.
